

2012 Longer Combination Vehicle (LCV) Permit Notification

Due to the passage of Assembly Bill 232 during the 2011 Legislative Session, the Division is pleased to announce that beginning January 1, 2012, motor carriers will have the option of obtaining Longer Combination Vehicle (LCV) permits; otherwise known as overweight/over-length permits, during three registration cycles: January 1 – December 31; April 1 – March 31; and October 1 – September 30.

Our seasonal operators will be better served by having the option to spread out annual permit costs and reduced processing delays; no longer will your company be required to renew their LCV permits by January of each calendar year.

Should the LCV permit no longer be required by your company, you will continue to receive refunds for any unused portion, upon returning the original permit to the Division.

We would like to know your preference for a permit registration cycle starting with the 2012 year. This information will help ensure a smooth transition to the new cycles. Once a cycle is chosen, all permits requested will be issued for the same cycle.

Please indicate which permit registration cycle you would prefer:

If you prefer a permit registration cycle that begins later in the calendar year, but need permits prior to the start of the new permit registration cycle, note that information in the spaces above. Permits needed prior to the start of your new registration cycle can be prorated and issued. For example, the April 1st through March 31st permit registration cycle is selected; however, permits are needed prior to April 1st. Those permits can be issued for a Jan – Mar timeframe and new permits issued to start April 1st.
